WINTER AVERAGING

For the City of Hutto water service customers, residential sewer volume billing is based on the average of the customer's water consumption for the winter months of November, December, January, and February when water is typically lower due to minimal landscape watering. Each year this average is calculated and used for the following twelve months sewer volume billing. A flat rate is charged to sewer service only accounts or accounts that have not established a winter average history with the City of Hutto.
